

FABRIZIO CATANZARO

FULLSTACK MERN WEB DEVELOPER & MOBILE APPS DEV

One of the characteristics that stand out to me the most is the ability to learn quickly and know how to listen. I know how to integrate easily into work teams and I seek to be a member of one where they allow me to evolve as a person and as a developer at the same time, being part of a pleasant environment where different ways of thinking are respected and there is constant dialogue.

SOFT SKILLS

Thanks to my previous work experiences in the field of customer service, I was able to improve my interpersonal skills. However, the teamwork within MindHub helped me increase my ability to communicate with my peers and teachers.

I am very detailed when it comes to working and I like to investigate everything that I do not know or that makes me curious. I don't like to sit still without activities to do and I love to continue training in what I'm passionate about.
